Memphis, Tenn., March 26.-W. A. Hogin, one of the most prominent men in Memphis, at the head of the brokerage firm of Hogin & Co., was shot last night while in the private apartments of Doris Noble. He died to-night.

Hogin & Co., was shot last hight water the private apartments of Doris Noble. He died to-night.

For the last three years the dead man, according to the statement of the woman. had maintained the fiat. Last night Hogin started to the Lyceum Theater with his wife and daughter. He left them at the door. Within ten minutes he was in the luxuriously-furnished apartments of Miss Noble. They quarreled and the broker left the fiat. He returned in five minutes and after a few words with the woman she shot him. The ball entered his right side. He became unconscious and remained in a half conscious condition all day, until to-night, when he died. The woman is in jall.

In a statement to-night she said that the man beat her last night, knocking her down. She secured her pistol and while making an effort to scare him fired unintentionally. There is still another story that the broker was shot by a man who is in love with the woman and that she is trying to shield the man in the case.

Hogin was one of the most prominent and wealthy men in Memphis and the knowledge of the existence of his dual life and the shooting have caused a great stir. He was a member of the Memphis and New Orleans cotton exchanges and a leading church member. The remains will be shipped to Nashville in the morning for burial. The woman is slender in stature, weighing about 15 pounds, and is not considered pretty.

Chicago, March 26.—The Chicago horse market broke the record of receipts Monday, there having arrived at the Dexter Park Amphitheater, Union Stock Yards, during the day 1.697 horses in 114 cars, constituting the largest number ever received in one day. The highest previous record was June 13, 1888, when 1.608 head arrived. The receipts for the month of March thus far show a gain of 2.657 over the corresponding period of last year and the month of February showed a gain of 2.000 over February, 1900. FOUND HUSBAND AND CHILDREN

Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming journeyed from Brooklyn, N. Y., to St. Louis with her mind fully made up to have her husband, James Fleming, arrested, but after she met her husband and three children Tuesday night at the Central District Police Station and listened to words of advice, given by Captain Reynolds, she relented, and went to her new home in St. Louis with her husband and children.

Mrs. Fleming arrived in St. Louis yesterday morning and informed the police that her husband had left her in Brooklyn, N. Y., on February 7, and had come to St. Louis with their three children. She told the police that she wanted him located, and said she would swear out a warrant against him on a charge of wife abandonment, as she claimed he deserted her. She told the police that he and the children were in St. Louis, as she had received a letter from her oldest son.

Detective Bambrick was assigned on the case, and late Tuesday evening he found Fleming at his work, as a mortar mixer, at a building in course of construction on Taylor avenue. The detective made known his mission, and Fleming consented to accompany him to the police station. The three children, two boys and a girl, went with their father.

At the police station Fleming made the statement that his wife had offered no objections to his leaving Brooklyn, and also said she had consented to allow the children to accompany him. The woman did not deny this statement. Fleming said he was willing to provide for his wife, and she consented to go to his home. Fleming has been living with his children at No. 1850 Wells avenue.
